

of Appeals. His non-success was due to the failure of the Brooklyn men to stand together. Resolutions expressing the heartfelt support of the ticket were offered by Mr. Duray, and adopted with much enthusiasm.

IT IS A WINNING TICKET.

SO SAY ALL THE REPUBLICANS.

THEY CANNOT SEE HOW IT CAN BE BEATEN—REPUBLICANS ADMIT THEIR CHANCES ARE SLIM.

There was no diminution yesterday in the enthusiastic satisfaction with which the Republicans in this city hailed the nomination of Morton, Saxton and Haught. By the convention held on Tuesday at Saratoga. Reports coming in from every direction indicated that the people are preparing to ratify the work of their representatives by electing the ticket, not by a mere plurality, but by such an overwhelming majority as will wipe out any hope the Democrats may have of carrying the Empire State again for some time to come.

The gratification expressed at the nomination of Levi P. Morton and Charles T. Saxton for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor has not been confined to any class or faction of Republicans. They have been accepted as the standard-bearers of the whole united party, and from present appearances will be supported from now until the election on November 6 with a fervor and enthusiasm that will remind veteran Republicans of the glorious campaigns of Fremont, Lincoln and Grant. No discerning Republican was seen yesterday who expressed doubts of the success of the State ticket this fall, and many Democrats admitted only a miracle could save their party from defeat.

SENATOR LEXOW CONFIDENT.

State Senator Clarence Lexow, who was one of the first among the influential Republicans in the State to advocate the nomination of Mr. Morton for Governor, and whose personal efforts aided in the nomination of Senator Saxton for Lieutenant-Governor, was in his law office at No. 19 Liberty-st. yesterday afternoon, and expressed his delight over the work performed by the State Convention. He said: "It is my opinion that with the party issues now before the people and with the candidates now in the field, if the Republican party in this State does not win a signal victory in the coming election, we need not hope for a victory in a State campaign while the political organizations remain as they now are. It would be difficult to conceive of more favorable conditions for a Republican triumph in the State, and it would be next to impossible for us to have a stronger ticket. The Democrats are so badly discouraged that they expect defeat. Governor Flower's decision not to be a candidate for re-election is perhaps the wisest course he has adopted for many months. He does not want to be held responsible for the defeat of his party, knowing that it would be said that his record as Governor had helped to cause the defeat. Governor Flower's action in vetoing reform measures, however, should be charged up against his party. He has originated nothing since he has been Governor, but has merely acted as his party wanted him to act. Nobody doubts that he would have signed the reform bills if his party had been willing to have him sign them, and any other Democrat, who might be elected in his place, would be compelled to do what his party demanded. The record of Governor Flower is the record of the Democratic party in the State."

HILL'S POSSIBLE CANDIDACY.

"Do you expect that Senator David B. Hill will be the next Democratic candidate for Governor?" Senator Lexow was asked. "I understand that the bulk of the Democrats in the State want Senator Hill to run again, but it is not yet clear that he will yield to the demands of his party. If he does, it will doubtless be with the wish to place himself in line for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency in 1896. He may feel that he will have no chance for the Presidency unless he can go into the race for the Governorship, at such a desperate time and be elected. "A defeated candidate for Governor would be under great disadvantages in a race for the Presidency, but he may be willing to play for a high stake with the chances against his winning."

GENERAL MCCOOK'S WORDS OF PRAISE.

General Anson G. McCook said in his office at No. 303 Broadway yesterday: "I have been well acquainted with Mr. Morton and I cannot find words strong enough for the expression of my high regard for him as a man and for my admiration of his ability and official rectitude. He may receive the most earnest support of every loyal Republican in the State, and as having the record has been so good that he must be considered a tower of strength for the ticket. His position in favor of recent reform bills makes him well known to the people."

A HUNDRED INEFFECTUAL BALLOTS.

Saratoga Park, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The adjourned Congress Convention met here this afternoon and took 100 ballots without making a nomination. Speaker Malby, of the Assembly, Judge Smith, of Fulton; Judge Houghton, of Saratoga; and Judge Kellogg, of St. Lawrence, declined to support the ticket of the State Convention. The convention adjourned at 10 o'clock to-morrow, and a conference committee of three was appointed to confer with the candidates.

BRIGHT HOPES IN BROOKLYN.

Charles M. Newsin, of Brooklyn, member of the Republican State Committee for the 14th Congressional District, said of the ticket: "I think the ticket is as strong as it possibly could be. The convention was harmonious. Of course the honored ones of different counties came in for complimentary votes, but Mr. Morton was the best man for the head of the ticket. It is a people's ticket, and the people will support it. I believe we shall carry every Congressional District in the State, north of Harlem. The Democratic ticket is in a condition of complete demoralization. Governor Flower's declaration to run was doubtless dictated by that fact. Our ticket will be supported enthusiastically and elected."

A HINT TO THE COMMITTEE OF SEVENTY.

Donald Mackay, senior member of the firm of Vermilye & Co., the Nassau-st. bankers, said of the ticket yesterday: "I told the Committee of the Executive Committee of the State Convention, a few minutes ago that if its committee would only give us as good a municipal ticket as the Republican State ticket, Tammany Hall would be beaten out of sight in this city. Put down the ticket of the State Convention as a good opinion of Morton, Saxton and Haught."

MR. BLANCHARD ADMITS THE TICKET.

James A. Blanchard, who stands in the front rank of the influential and earnest Republicans of this city, and who is always among the workers in every campaign for the whole Republican ticket, said yesterday: "I regard the nomination of Mr. Morton as the strongest that could have been made. I have long believed in his ability to carry this State. I voted for him in an convention of 1888, and I believe the result of the coming election will vindicate that vote. His association with Mr. Harrison in 1888 did much to place New York in the Republican column. His running mate, Senator Saxton, is also very strong with the people. He was a soldier in his youth and the old soldiers will support him irrespective of party. In his later years his services to the people have been great and valuable, and their votes will show their appreciation. I have no doubt of the triumphant election of the ticket."

A DEMOCRATIC ADMISSION.

Police Commissioner James J. Martin, after admitting that the Republican ticket would be hard to beat this fall, said: "I believe from what I have heard that it is the desire of a majority of the Democrats in this State that Senator Hill should be a candidate for Governor again, but I do not know that he would be willing to run. I think that Senator Hill could rally the entire

Democratic party in the coming fight. Even if he were defeated his chances for a Presidential nomination would not be injured. In my opinion, because he had thrown himself into the breach at a time of peril, if Senator Hill does not run I think the convention will nominate a man who is most likely to unite the entire party, but I do not know who that man will be. At the office of Morton, Bliss & Co., yesterday, it was said Mr. Morton was still at Ellerslie, his country home. There is no expectation of his visiting New-York at an early date, but it is possible that he will come here next week.

PLEASUED WITH THE NOMINEES.

THE MORNINGSIDES REPUBLICAN CLUB HOLDS A BOUQUING RATIFICATION MEETING.

The members of the Morningside Republican Club met in force last night at their handsome clubhouse, One-hundred-and-sixty-sixth-st. and Seventh-ave., to ratify the nomination of the Saratoga convention. The meeting was called to order at 9 o'clock. Long before this the broad avenue had been brilliantly illuminated with colored fire and Roman candles, and a great bonfire was kept blazing all the evening in front of the clubhouse. James King, president of the club, presided, and read a letter from General Anson G. McCook, in which General McCook expressed his regret at being unable to be present. He said, in his letter, that the nominations commended themselves to the members of the Republican party, but to all men who believed in the dignity of American labor and the protection of American industries. He said: "For our nominee for Governor, I have the most profound respect, and I believe the greatest admiration for his splendid qualities. It is no exaggeration to say that for honesty, integrity, conscientiousness and efficiency, he is a superior to the members of the Republican party, but to all men who believe in the dignity of American labor and the protection of American industries. MEETING IN BEHALF OF JUDGE CULLEN.

The Brooklyn Bar Association, the membership of which is made up of both Republicans and Democrats, held a meeting last evening to urge the re-nomination of Judge Cullen by both parties. The call for the meeting was sent out over the names of J. T. Marlan, George W. Wingate and William H. Hurl, Jr. Many of the best-known lawyers of the city attended the meeting, which was held in the hall of the Brooklyn Bar Association. The speakers in favor of the re-nomination of Judge Cullen were: John B. McLean, ex-Judge of the Supreme Court, and Albert G. McDonald, ex-Judge of the Supreme Court. A. A. and others. Hugo Hirsch offered appropriate resolutions which were carried.

THE WINNING REPUBLICAN TICKET.

INVINCIBLE NOMINATIONS.

An invincible ticket was nominated at Saratoga yesterday. It is one that cannot be beaten. Morton, Saxton and Haught are a man of patriotic purpose and of great ability. He will take to the office those qualities which have made his administration of Governor so conspicuous for its excellence.

A FITTING TRIBUTE TO MR. SAXTON.

The nomination of Charles T. Saxton for the office of Lieutenant-Governor was a most brilliant feat. Mr. Saxton has been for the last twenty years one of the ablest and most influential Senators who sat around the State Capitol. He has been a permanent presence in the Senate as a Senator and a Republican.

THE MAN FOR THE PLACE.

The nomination of Levi Parsons Morton for Governor was made by a more than two-thirds majority of the convention, and this overwhelming endorsement by the delegates is proof of the sentiment prevailing throughout the State that Mr. Morton is the man for the place.

A CANDIDATE FOR PATRIOTIC CITIZENS.

The Republicans of New York have, in ex-Vice-President Morton, a candidate for Governor for whom every patriotic citizen of that State can vote with enthusiasm. He is a man of patriotic purpose and of great ability. He will take to the office those qualities which have made his administration of Governor so conspicuous for its excellence.

HIS SUPPORT UNANIMOUS.

The Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph says: "The Saratoga convention did its work in short order. It adopted a platform pronounced in its commendation of the new tariff, and nominated for Governor Levi Parsons Morton, a man of patriotic purpose and of great ability. He will take to the office those qualities which have made his administration of Governor so conspicuous for its excellence."

A SINCERE AND PRACTICAL REFORMER.

Mr. Saxton, the candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, is one of the most attractive men in the State. Simple, genial and hearty, he is one of the "plain men" of the State. His name has been associated with every progressive measure which has been before the people of the State during the last ten years. He is an honest, sincere and practical reformer.

NOMINATIONS GO A-BEGGING.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 20 (Special).—The mixed-up condition of Democratic politics in Madison County was made prominent at the County Convention at Morrisville yesterday. The Hill men are in control, but by a clever dodge the Cleveland men secured the organization of the County Committee by one majority. When it came to nominations, nobody could find a candidate willing to run. The ticket was refused several times. Some of the county enthusiastic Republicans, who had been to an election, were finally persuaded to run for the Assembly, and

CONFLICTING REPORTS ABOUT HIS INTENTIONS.

HE IS QUOTED AS TELLING SENATOR GOITMAN THAT HE WOULD RUN FOR GOVERNOR.

A STATEMENT TO THE CONTRARY FROM ALBANY.

There was a great deal of speculation in political circles yesterday regarding the policy which Senator Hill will adopt at Saratoga next week for bringing all the Snappers, Muskways and Cuckoos together in one nest, and as to the man who will come out of the Democratic State Convention labelled the standard-bearer of the party for Governor. There has been for the last three or four days a growing belief among Democrats faithful to the fortunes of the senior Senator that he is seriously weighing his own chances and considering the probability of triumph or defeat should he direct his own nomination and boldly avow a purpose to go into the battle at the head of his ticket. There have been many "pointers" reported indicating at least that Mr. Hill is taking soundings with the possible purpose of attempting so hazardous a voyage. It is known that Senator Hill within a very few days consulted with Senator Goitman, of Maryland, on this subject and that Mr. Hill informed Mr. Goitman that he had practically made up his mind to accept the nomination for Governor and make as hot a canvass for election as he was capable of. Senator Goitman afterward repeated his conversation with Senator Hill to the members of the Republican party in Albany. He said: "Senator Hill has decided to run for Governor. He will take to the office those qualities which have made his administration of Governor so conspicuous for its excellence."

OVER 3,000 EMPLOYEES AFFECTED BY THE STRIKE.
THE UNION CHOSE A FAVORABLE TIME FOR ACTION, AND IT IS THOUGHT THE CONTRACTORS WILL SOON YIELD.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 20.—After weeks of agitation for better prices the garment workers of this city have determined to order a strike. It has been expected within the last few days that an extensive strike would be ordered, and that the 150 contractors would obtain higher wages, the abolishment of the piece system, a return to "week" work and a nine-hour day without a conflict. Yesterday, however, there was a change on the part of a considerable number of the employers. A committee, representing the Executive Council of the union, waited on a large number of contractors, and only two of them refused to accede to the demands. The rest of the contractors, who had all wanted time, the report of this committee was submitted to the council last evening. After discussing the situation at some length, the delegates decided to take an aggressive stand without delay, and a unanimous vote to tie up every "ready-made" clothing shop in this city today was adopted.

At noon today every contractor's shop had been closed, and the female workers, not members of the union, were sent out to find other employment. Inquiries among the large wholesale and retail clothing firms show that while the strike may put back the work of the season somewhat, it is believed that it will materially affect the trade here. One of the leading wholesale firms is of the opinion that the trade will have to advance prices paid to contractors to at least 10 per cent in order to enable the contractors to meet the demands of the union. It is thought that the strike will have a great effect on the contractors to at least 10 per cent in order to enable the contractors to meet the demands of the union. It is thought that the strike will have a great effect on the contractors to at least 10 per cent in order to enable the contractors to meet the demands of the union.

NEWARK WORKMEN STILL UNSETTLED.
GARMENT WORKERS WIN THEIR POINT, BUT THE NON-UNION HATTERS WILL GO ON STRIKE.
The strike of the garment workers has been ended by mutual agreement, and the shops will resume work next Monday. The "sweating" system has been abolished, and the contractors are to pay $100 on each order, and to continue a day's work for overtime ten hours to constitute a day's work. All future disagreements are to be referred to the State Board of Arbitration.

Albany, Sept. 20.—Arbitration Commissioner Edward F. Fennell settled the strike at the Victory Mills, Cohoes, this evening.

About 100 women went out last Monday to the windows and spinners returned to work yesterday. Twenty-five employees of the cardroom refused to return unless the wages which had been reduced nearly a year ago were restored, and the men, a proposition to which they assented, and all hands returned to work at 6:30 p. m.

SEACONNET MILL WEAVERS AT WORK.
Fall River, Mass., Sept. 20.—The weavers' union held a large meeting in Music Hall this morning and voted to grant one-half week's pay to all the strikers. Secretary Whitehead said that the union has $12,000 in its treasury. The weavers in and out of the union are clamoring for assistance, and the weavers' union is expected to make a large contribution to the cause.

A FORMERLY WEALTHY BUILDER ARRESTED.
George W. Hughes, fifty-nine years old, of No. 15 West Fifty-third-st., a builder by occupation, was held in $2,000 bail by Justice McMahon on a charge of forgery made by him on February 10, 1894. Hughes borrowed $33 from him, giving as security a check on the West Side National Bank for $83, made to his own order, and purporting to be signed by James Mulholland, a builder, of No. 44 West Forty-sixth-st. The check was returned, marked "worthless," and Mulholland said that his signature on it was a forgery.

Hughes, who a few years ago it is said, was one of the wealthiest and wealthiest builders in the city, at the height and wealthiest builders in the city, promised to make good the $33 to Mr. Mulholland, but when he failed to do so, Mulholland refused to let him off from time to time, and Hughes, who had lost his patience and caused Hughes a great deal of trouble, was finally arrested by the police.

EDWARD R. LEISERLING DEAD.
Mauch Chunk, Penn., Sept. 20.—Edward R. Leisierling, the president of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, died this morning at Lehighburg, Germany, aged forty-nine years. He was a native of Mauch Chunk, and was the eldest son of the late John Leisierling, who was prominently identified with the development of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, which is today one of the wealthiest and most substantial corporations of this State.

Mr. Leisierling's health failed several months ago, and he was called for Europe to recuperate at the medical springs of Hamburg. He remained there for some time, but his health did not improve. His brother, John Leisierling, who was a partner in the company, and his wife, Mary, were with him at the time of his death. The body will not be buried until after the funeral, which will be held at Mauch Chunk.
